Role Description

This is a remote contract role for a Swift IOS Developer. We looking to hire a Swift developer who will be responsible for the creation and maintenance of iOS and OS X apps for platforms such as mobile phones, tablets, and PCs. The creation of such apps and their integration with back-end services will be your major emphasis. You will collaborate with other engineers and developers who are working on various layers of the infrastructure. As a result, dedication to effective collaboration, problem-solving, smart design, and the creation of high-quality goods is required.

Qualifications

Experience in developing, testing, and modifying existing applications.

Minimum of 3 years of experience.

In-depth knowledge of Swift and its environments.

Strong knowledge of object-oriented programming.

Experience with Cocoa APIs on OS X.

Excellent understanding of performance limitations and features.

Memory management and multi-threading knowledge.

Experience with embedded databases and other system data stores.

Knowledge of RESTful APIs for integration to back-end services.

Strong awareness of UI design and a user-centered mindset.

Knowledge of low-level C-based libraries is a plus.

Understanding of automated testing platforms and unit tests.

Ability to coordinate with the team remotely.

Attention to detail.

Experience with unit testing and debugging

Any professional certificate.
